

With the Oil Men

O. P. Dawson, who is manager of the National Supply company in Tulsa, says that the situation, so far as obtaining supplies is concerned, is about as bad as it ever was during the period of the war. He says that he has seen worse conditions than he is seeing now. The business of procuring oil is not getting more active immediately after the signing of the armistice, says Mr. Dawson, and when it does get going it will be in a new way. He says that the oil men are now under way in Oklahoma, with the Okeefe, and the Garber and Billings developments, and the great amount of work that is being done down around Duncan and Walters, not to mention the big ones that are at Beggs and Okmulgee, together with the large business being done at Broken Arrow and now the river at Jopka and Muskogee. It is not surprising that our supplies are running short. The Texas field, with Burkhennett, Egan, and Ranger and all the other fields, is not producing as much as it did in the summer of 1918, and the oil men are looking for a new source of supply. They are looking for a new source of supply, and they are looking for a new source of supply. They are looking for a new source of supply, and they are looking for a new source of supply.

A. T. Locke, who has made a world of friends in Tulsa since he came here from Chicago, has announced that he is going to leave Tulsa for Chicago, Ill., to take up his position as assistant to W. E. Kessler, executive manager of the Producers and Refiners corporation, and will help dispose of the big output from the two refineries owned and operated by them.

W. P. (Big Boy) Thompson and Charles Ryan, the greatest oilfield men of them all, were enroute around the lobby yesterday looking for old friends and acquaintances in Tulsa. Mr. Thompson is visiting at the Hotel Oklahoma, and he and the head of the house are doing the honors while the family is away. Mr. Ryan is leaving for Tulsa today.

W. H. Black of the Black Steel and Wire Manufacturing company, arrived in Tulsa yesterday from Chicago, Ill., where he has been for the past few days. He is looking for old friends and acquaintances in Tulsa.

Kellie Friend has returned to Tulsa after being discharged from the army and will soon be back in Tulsa. He is looking for old friends and acquaintances in Tulsa.

W. N. Robinson is taking no chances hereafter of being arrested by the humane society or by the

STOCKS TAKE DROP IN SCOPE AND PRICE

Dealing While Over Million Shares is Less in Volume Than Usual—Business Rules on Exchange.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Stocks were less responsive today to the passing of the money market, and trading well over the million share mark was smaller in volume and scope than that of recent days. Many of the leading issues, which had opened at 6 per cent, the lowest initial quotation since last Friday, later easing to 5 on an average. Offerings from local sources were supplemented by an inflow of in-foreign funds, but time money remained firm.

Reports of monetary conditions, which further shading of rates, in the long maturities, by the market when large sums will be available through heavy interest and diverse investments.

News regarding the security values, many of domestic origin, added from various centers confirming recent reports respecting favorable conditions in the industrial progress, and the trade expansion.

Rail shipments and receipts were also carried down by the setback toward the close, the market ending with an irregular undertone. Sales amounted to $20,000,000 shares.

Trading in bonds was comparatively light and restricted, but steady for the most part. Total sales, par value, amounted to $9,350,000.
